The radiology division of NEXUS / DIS GmbH and CHILI GmbH have been operating under the umbrella of a joint company, NEXUS / CHILI GmbH, since 9 December 2019. Following close collaboration in recent years, the most innovative RIS on the market is now also combined organizationally with 40 years of experience in multimedia communication and diagnostics.

CHILI GmbH has been part of the NEXUS Group since May 2017 and is strengthening the group's product portfolio with its telemedicine and image archiving systems. Collaboration with the radiology department of NEXUS / DIS GmbH has been successful from the outset: Added value for customers has been achieved primarily by eliminating interfaces and centralizing processes.

The market position as a complete solution provider and specialist in the field of „Radiology and Imaging“ is to be further expanded jointly starting immediately.

„Following the close collaboration in recent years and joint sales, the consolidation of the divisions is the next logical step,“ Dennis Klein explained, who heads the company as one of three managing directors of NEXUS / CHILI together with Dr. Uwe Engelmann and Dr. Heiko Münch.

„We can provide our customers a diverse product portfolio from a single source and support them in the future with concentrated know-how and leaner processes,“ Dr. Uwe Engelmann confirmed.
